PROFILE

Emiliano Ferrari, who graduated University of Milan 'Bicocca', focused his academic studies on Italian Employment and Labor Law.

He joined Failla&Partners in 2026 – collaborating with the team on personnel management risks and their organizational implications.

PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE

Emiliano completed a legal internship in June 2024 in the labour department of an international law firm. In collaboration with this firm and the Department of Labor Law at the University of Milan 'Bicocca' he wrote an experimental thesis entitled "Work Organization and Outsourcing in the Logistics Sector."

In addition, he also has experience working as a trainee lawyer in the Italian office of a top tier national Italian firm which is part of a European network of law firms where he gained experience in industrial relations, labour litigation and out of court employment law counsel.
